

Go for the gold

What a rush! When the bright gold foliage of this unique Dawn Redwood emerges in the spring, it is a gold rush, indeed.

Gold Rush Dawn Redwood (Metasequoia glyptostroboides 'Gold Rush') is a gold-leaved selection from Japan, known there as 'Ogon.' Its foliage maintains its golden color well into summer and turns burnished coppery brown in the fall. Like the species, which was once thought to be extinct, this rare selection has an upright, pyramidal growth habit, reaching about 50 feet in height in 20 years.
