

Red Rage® Tupelo (Nyssa sylvatica 'Haymanred')
Deep green, high gloss summer foliage turns outrageously bright red with the onset of fall weather. Discovered in southern Indiana, it has all the great features of the species plus good resistance to leaf spot and dependably brilliant fall color! Its upright pyramidal shape makes it an excellent candidate for street tree use. Height is approximately 35 feet, with a spread of about 20 feet. USDA Zone 5.
